Connecticut Restoration Firm Creates Large Loss Division

Wallingford, CT, November 1, 2010 – Connecticut’s and Western Massachusetts’s premier privately-owned emergency clean up and restoration services firm organizes new division to service its larger clients.

Clean Sweep Restoration Services of New England, LLC formally announced their Large Loss Division start up. This newly structured division is headed up by two long-time Clean Sweep employees, Rich Breski, Division Manager and Mike Hamill, Marketing Manager.

“Large Losses require a more specialized skill set and a deeper level of internal coordination,” says Michael T. Cody, President of Clean Sweep. “To successfully handle these larger claims it was clear we needed a separate division that would focus solely on these types of losses for those clients.”

The Large Loss Division will have responsibility for longer term, more complex residential and commercial loss projects that require engineering and/or structural work. Mr. Breski has years of experience as a General Contractor, along with this previous role as an insurance adjuster. Mr. Hamill has been in the insurance industry for more than a decade. Combined, their expertise has been serving their Large Loss clients well.

Breski and Hamill have already successfully handled several large losses and the new division continues to grow.

Clean Sweep Restoration Services of New England, LLC has been restoring homes and businesses to their original condition – or better – that have been damaged by water, smoke, fire, wind, mold, and other natural disasters since 1996.
